

C
E
N
T
E R
FOR THEORY

Fall 2018 Colloquium

September 19, 2018 Noon

UH 432

Reaping the Storm:

Responses to Soviet

Authoritarianism in Russian literature and Mass Culture

Dr. Lonny Harrison

Associate Professor Modern Languages

Dr. Lonny Harrison is Associate Professor of Russian and Section Head of Critical Languages and International Studies (CLIS) in the Department of Modern Languages. He specializes in 19th and 20th-century Russian literature and culture and has wider interests in Russian and Soviet cinema and mass culture. He published Archetypes from Underground: Notes on the Dostoevskian Self in 2016. His current research focuses on responses to Soviet authoritarianism in the lives and work of Mikhail Bulgakov, Yuri Olesha, and Boris Pasternak.