

C
E
N
T
E
R

FOR

THEORY

Fall 2020 Colloquium

October 7, 2020 1:30pm

Sinuuous Histories: How Worms Have Animated Us

Dr. Jacqueline Fay

Associate Professor of English

Join Microsoft Teams Meeting

+1 817-502-2418 United States, Fort Worth (Toll)

Conference ID: 738 697 807#

Using posthuman theories, particularly those focusing on animacy, the talk will develop the idea of “vermiculture” as a term not just to refer to the cultivation of worms to break down soil but a large and complex system of physical encounters with worms and cultural representations of worms that serves important functions in what it means to be human.