A Day in the Life of an Intern

No day is the same, but here is an example of a day at Brunswick.

8AM – 10AM

- Review overnight press coverage and draft monitoring report analyzing major themes
- Locate and pull financial data from tools such as Bloomberg for a client team

10AM – 12PM

- Client calls Brunswick regarding a crisis. The client team requests that you conduct background research and analyze previous situations to help inform the communications

12PM – 2PM

- Prepare a list of key reporters to guide media outreach for an upcoming client announcement
- Participate in a meeting with an assigned client team

2PM – 5PM

- Analyze the social media conversation across Facebook, LinkedIn and Twitter from a conference that your client attended
- Draft a research memo analyzing how different media outlets covered the news driving the day

Joining Brunswick

Milan Khatami
Account Director, Dallas

Joining Brunswick was the best choice I could have made for my career. I was given the opportunity to immediately jump in on complex and interesting work with incredibly high-profile clients. You're given a level of trust and respect that I think is rare to find as an intern and you get to work with the best people who are encouraging and supportive of everything that you do.

Jack Childress
Chief of Staff, Insight, Dallas

Brunswick has been the perfect place to build my career the last five years. I've been able to work on a huge variety of engaging, high-profile issues surrounded by amazing colleagues. I truly feel like I have been able to help clients understand and respond to their most complex challenges, and it's always rewarding to see your work hit the front page! Brunswick is the kind of place where you can find a niche that you're really interested in, while collaborating with other great people who share your enthusiasm. If I had to do it all over again, I wouldn't change a thing.

Vedika Kumar
Executive, New York

Finding a company like Brunswick to intern for felt like a dream come true. I was thrown into situations that I would usually read about in front-page news and brought onto work for the biggest and brightest companies in the world. The best part of my internship was building relationships with some of the smartest people I've ever met, and I continue to grow and learn from incredible colleagues and high-stakes projects as I move up in my career.

Partner, Washington, D.C.

Brunswick is the type of place that rewards enthusiasm, open-mindedness and a willingness to challenge yourself. You are encouraged to soak up all that is available to you at the firm and proactively think about the path that leads you to a fulfilling internship.

Hannah Rueckel
Associate, San Francisco

Joining the Brunswick family 8 years ago as an intern has given me the opportunity to grow and become a data-driven communications strategist. I was able to start my career in our Munich office, help build out the analytics practice in Germany & Europe and now I am spending 2 years in San Francisco where I do Insight analytics and digital work for clients in business-critical situations. I owe a lot to my incredible colleagues and mentors who have enriched my experience at the firm.

Isabella Huang Isett
Executive, Chicago

Even as an intern, Brunswick gave me opportunities to work with some of our largest clients, and in interesting and complex areas – from c-suite communications and employee engagement to IPOs and mergers and acquisitions. Brunswick's global footprint allows me to collaborate with colleagues all over the world. There is never a dull moment!
